Dear Mr Wardlaw,

Thank you for your reply dated 25 January 2007.

In that letter, you refer to French and other foreign languages as “elective subjects”. This is a clear (and welcome!) departure from the previous information released by your department. We would like to clarify whether EMB now includes foreign languages such as French among the list of 20 (now 21) elective subjects offered under the NSS, and as such, can be offered to all students, and not just non-Chinese speakers.

Yours truly,

Jean-Luc Rey
Chairman
